ALUMNI FAVORED TO WIN AT BASKETBALL

BOYS' AND GIRLS' TEAMS BATTLE WITH GOULD ALUMNI FRIDAY

The Gould Academy Alumni game here Friday should prove another sensational game. Never in the past years has such a strong group of former Gould stars been gathered together. Three former stars on Oxford County Championship teams will be seen in action when Jay Willard 1929, George Parsons 1930, and Addison Saunders 1930, go into action Friday evening. Wilson Bartlett, one of the best basketball players turned out in recent years will also perform for the Alumni. Don Stanley 1932 and "Stubby" Wheeler 1928, both accurate shots will be available. It is also hoped that Custer Quimby 1932, and Dan Wight 1931 will be on hand. Hedley Wheeler 1928, and "Speed Eames" are also trying out for the team. The return of Jack Parsons 1927 boosted Alumni stock considerably and it now appears that the alumni should win.

With this worthy opposition it looks as if the "Blue and Gold" will have their hands full. The under-graduates, however, have salted away four games and have lost only one game and that by one point, and are determined to put up a great battle from start to finish. This game may prove another sensation such as the Gould-Mexico game turned out to be.

As a preliminary game, starting at 7:15 the Gould Academy girls' team will play the Alumnae. Both teams have been practicing for some time and it looks as tho the preliminary game will be quite an attraction. J. S. Morse, who refereed the Gould-Wilton game will referee both games Friday night. It is hoped that all the Alumni and friends of the school will turn out for this fine double header.

The Girls' Alumnae basketball team will play the girls' varsity sextet before the boys' game. The alumnae have organized a very strong team of many stars of former years, which will furnish the varsity plenty of opposition. The alumnae squad consists of Captain Helen Beckler, Celia Gorman, Erma Marshall, Elsie Davis, Dorothy Parsons, Maxine Clough, Betty Anderson, Elva Marshall, Margaret Hanson and Dorothy Hanson. The varsity squad has been coached by Miss Dorothy Hanson, director of physical education for girls. Manager Barbara Heath plans to arrange for several games to be played after the team has had more opportunity to practice. The girls' varsity line-up for the alumnae game will be: Shirley Cole, rf; Margaret Hamilton, lf; Betty Hunt, c; Barbara Heath, rg; Mary Tibbels, lg; Ruby Hodson, cg; substitutes, Polly Browne and Martha Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cole, who have been boarding for some time at P. O. Brinck's, returned to Mechanic Falls Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Haselton of Bangor were the week end guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Haselton.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dudley returned to So. Paris Monday after spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. P. D. Brinck.

Betty Soule, Gould Academy, spent the week end as guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Morron, at South Paris.

M. F. Charles and family of South Paris have moved into the Copeland house on Chapman Street. Mr. Charles is working on the section.

GOULD WINS FROM WILTON ACADEMY

LANE AND ALLEN LEAD SCORING BROWNE CLOSELY FOLLOWING

Gould Academy with Lane and Allen playing their best ball of the season defeated Wilton Academy to the tune of 36-19. "Bud" Browne was a shade off color and couldn't get going until the final quarter when he flashed back into his stride and sank three nice baskets. McNally and Martenson both played their usual steady games and with the offense men functioning to advantage soon had the game pretty well in hand, after a slow start. Valli who has been rather "under the weather" so to speak, did not play up to his usual brand of ball.

For the visitors, Orr at center was the shining light, sinking five baskets for ten of his team's nineteen points. Farnum, right forward, also played well for Wilton scoring seven points. Wilton had a fast breaking offense but many of their passes were intercepted by Martenson and McNally before they could get close to the basket.

BENNETT'S GARAGE AT WEST BETHEL BURNED TO THE GROUND

FIRE STARTED IN OFFICE FRIDAY NOON—ENTIRE CONTENTS OF BUILDING CONSUMED NEW CHEVROLET LOST

A fire of unknown origin which started in the office, totally destroyed the garage of Clarence M. Bennett at West Bethel early last Friday afternoon.

When discovered the fire had gained so much headway that it was impossible to enter the office, and there being no means of fighting fire, the efforts of the first arrivals were spent in trying to save the cars, a new Chevrolet being on the floor near the office. Herman Bennett was severely burned about the face in a vain attempt to save this car. Three other cars were destroyed besides a large stock of tires and 10 barrels of oil.

All tools and equipment in the shop at the rear were lost as well as a lot of rifles, ammunition and traps in the office and a stock of candy and cigars.

In the course of travel Mr. Lathrop's license and registration were lost without his noticing their absence. An attempt by the defendant to introduce evidence of the manner of his arrest was denied by Judge Shaw, who declared the charge and case dismissed on the evidence presented.

SHALL LIQUOR COME BACK?

(Portland Press Herald)

Editor of The Press Herald:

Just what are the forces back of the movement for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment? Is this movement supported by those who desire to improve conditions? Is it supported by those who wish to bring about less drinking and better conditions for our young people? Undoubtedly many good citizens have arrived at the conclusion that the liquor situation is worse now than it was in the days before the Eighteenth Amendment was placed in the Constitution and that in some way by repealing the amendment conditions can be improved.

Most people believe what they read in newspapers and magazines. For years there has been flowing through the newspapers, magazines and even the movies, a steady relentless propaganda for the overthrow of prohibition. What was back of this propaganda? Was it the churches and the temperance forces of the land? Was this propaganda put out by sincere citizens desiring to bring about better conditions, or were its chief supporters the great brewing interests whose business was closed and outlawed when the Eighteenth Amendment was adopted.

The propaganda represents that more people are drinking and more liquor is being used than ever before. It represents that most of the crime and lawlessness in our great cities is caused by prohibition. It ignores the fact that almost every country in the world has had a rising crime wave since the World War and that those countries do not have prohibition. It ignores the fact that in a great city like Boston there are far less arrests for drunkenness than in the days before prohibition.

This propaganda deliberately misrepresents the whole situation with the single purpose of deceiving the American people into believing that the only way to promote temperance is to again establish the liquor business on a legal basis.

When the Eighteenth Amendment became a law it made the great brewing industry an outlaw, an industry that poured millions of dollars into

WHAT OUR READERS THINK OF CITIZEN

RESULTS OF BALLOT SENT OUT LAST MONTH TO DETERMINE POPULAR FEATURES

Last month we mailed to half of our subscribers a questionnaire so that they could tell us the features of the Citizen which they liked and what they didn't like, as well as general remarks for the improvement of the paper. Of course only part of our readers received this, every other name being selected, and there may be others who would like to offer suggestions or criticisms. We want to hear from them.

The results so far are very satisfactory. There is a gratifying interest shown to be taken in all the features and news from County towns, and the criticisms and remarks are outspoken and will be helpful. We will secure correspondents in the communities where interest is indicated as soon as we can. The efforts of our subscribers in cooperating are much appreciated.

The popularity of the various features to date is in the following order:

- Here and There in Maine
- The Finger Points
- Thirty Years Ago
- Births, Marriages, Deaths
- Church and County News
- Gould Academy News
- Church Activities
- With the Poets
- How Much Do You Know?
- Two Minute Sermon
- Some of the remarks and suggestions.

"Our whole family read every word from front to back."

"The poems have been very good. I have cut out most of them and saved them."

"We like keeping in touch with Bethel through your paper."

"I think the paper much improved these last two years."

"We like all features of the paper. Do not care for the Thirty Years Ago. Was glad when you added poetry."

"It does seem as though the paper ought to be more than four pages."

"Your paper, The Oxford County Citizen, is all satisfactory to me."

"Wish there could be more Bethel news."

"Being away from Bethel I read nearly every item. Especially enjoy 'The Finger Points.'"

"Would like to see more Bethel items. I enjoy Mr. Brooks' writings, also 'The Finger Point' column."

"Would like to see the 'Finger Points' point out some of the good points in the town if there are any."

"News from all the towns is interesting."

"If you could persuade the local dealers to feature some special things in advertisements, I believe it would be a good thing both for them and the paper."

GOINGS ON IN MAINE

By L. G. C.

Last week we had such a busy week in Augusta, the second week of the Legislature is never very busy. It is the "get acquainted" week.

It is the new members' turn to show "what's what" about the old members' experience in play work and were put in the happy hot week to complete the number with a few "stage debutantes" of the important legislation that is to be put through this winter.

On Thursday night there were no "stage debuts" were probably referred to as "character actresses" in the new material. These "stage debuts" will be the old favorites will be most star this week. "These committee reports" in future performance. "Legislation" and as "stage debuts" will be the "side show" is the best part of a circus, all enter the "big treasury" as there so far, once committee hearings are no longer on the play.

Music was furnished by the Gould Academy orchestra under the direction of their leader, Mr. Maurice Thompson. An intermission in the afternoon was a week and the Speaker of the House and act as a specialty by a group of all the members of the different Girl Reserves. This was directed by Mrs. Thompson of the faculty. The entire group was as follows: a salary from fifty dollars to eight hundred dollars per session. A few of the more important personnel of this group were: Leola Affara, Marguerite Hall, Kathryn Brink, Edw. Edwards, Ruth May, Rosalie Thura, Katherine Goldthwait, Evelyn Warren and Phyllis Davis.

HERE AND THERE IN MAINE

During the past six years in which Harvey E. Powers has been Register of Deeds of Oxford County, 15,853 instruments have been recorded. The amount paid the County Treasurer for fees due the County in this time amounts to $12,433.40.

Of the Seed loans granted by the Department of Agriculture at Washington last year, Maine received 1,427 loans, totaling $479,786.

Rev. William D. Veazie, pastor of the Church of the Messiah in Portland, has been elected Superintendent of the Universalist churches in Maine, and Secretary of the Maine Universalist Convention.

The University of Maine during the next two years will operate on a budget reduced $160,000 annually. Because of the lowering of the State valuation, a $60,000 cut was made in the university appropriations, and the trustees believe that in the present emergency the university should return to the State $100,000 each year for the next two years.

James Wiley Parker, one time vice-president and general manager of the Berlin Mills Co., now the Brown Company, died at Cape Elizabeth last Friday at the age of 82.

For the fiscal year 1932 the State paid bounty on 1,425 bobcats. Although the bounty is $20 on a cat there has yet been no talk of economizing on this feature as the bobcat is the worst enemy of deer. It has been estimated that they kill not less than 70,000 deer in a year in the State of Maine.

It is estimated that the clam industry nets the residents of the State of Maine more than $100,000 annually. State Senator William E. Lawless, proprietor of the Elm House, Auburn, died of influenza at the C. M. G. Hospital Sunday night.

On Thursday of last week, Champlain Hall, one of the principal structures of Colby College, Waterville, was destroyed by fire. The building contained recreation rooms, the college bookstore, and the office of the treasurer.

Train and train service accidents in Maine during the months of July, August and September resulted in the death of six persons and injury to 19. Maine led the New England States in the number of train and train service accidents involving automobiles.

Charles W. Morse, former multi-millionaire, passed away at his home in Bethel last Thursday, aged 77 years.

The Kennebec Central, a narrow gauge railroad running to Torus, sold its rolling stock last week to the Waterville, Waterville and Farmington railroad. The line was established 47 years ago and was operated successfully until the hauling of government freight was done by trucks.

A State collected $215,567.72 less in motor vehicle registrations and drivers' licenses in 1932 than it did in 1931. The drop in the number of passenger automobiles registered was responsible for most of the loss. There were 135,787 passenger cars registered in 1932 as compared with 148,550 in 1931. The operators' licenses were increased by 47,967 last year.

The body of Earl Fernald, 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fernald of Bangor, was found by a diver in the Kennebec river last Thursday. The boy slid into the river Sunday, Jan. 8, and other attempts to recover his body had failed.

The American Legion Auxiliary will hold a public card party at the Legion house Wednesday evening Jan. 25. Mr. Albert Grover and Mrs. Henry Brown are in charge of the arrangements.

Keep Watch for the "Feverish Cold"

If you are "run down" or out of condition, if sluggish bowels have slowed your system, you are very liable to suffer from "feverish" cold.

Mrs. E. W. Stephan of 31 Kennerly Road, Dorchester, Mass., writes:—"It was recommended to me by a relative who had used it for years, and I in turn most sincerely recommend it, most of all for children, but also as a laxative for adults."

A FEW MOMENTS WITH THE POETS

ONE ON MAMA

A maiden sat reading a letter,
Her cheeks were like roses a-bloom,
From your sweetheart Thomas," she finished,
As her mother came into the room.

"What's this?" the harsh mother cried
sternly,
"This talking of sweetness," said
she,
"A letter from that young fool, Thomas,

Pray hand it right over to me."

"Dear mother, I'll read you the letter,"
Said the maiden with a voice so demure,
"I know it will please you to hear it,
For it's a nice letter, I'm sure."

"Dear Laura, I love you so madly, Tonight I am lonely and torn,"
With calm voice the maiden was reading,
The mother was listening with scorn.

"I know that your parents don't like me,
But where there's a will there's a way,
And they will yet dance at our wedding."

The bold lover went on to say,
"Stop! stop!" cried the mother in anger,
"I never in all my long life,
Saw a letter so stuffed full of nonsense,
Such a fool to be seeking a wife!"

"Hush mother," the daughter said
softly,
"Say nothing that you will rue,
For I have just read to you, mother,
An old letter papa sent to you."

GOD GIVE US MEN

God give us men. The time demands strong minds, great hearts, true faith
and willing hands;

Men whom the lust of office does
not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;

Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor; men who will
not lie;

Men who can stand before a demagogue
And dare his treacherous flatteries
without winking;

Tall men, sun-crowned, who live
above the fog
In public duty and in private thinking;
For while the rabble with their thumb-
worn creeds,
Their large professions and their little deeds
Mingle in selfish strife; lo! Freedom weeps!

Wrong rules the land, and waiting
Justice sleeps! —J. G. Holland.

11:00 Morning Worship. The Pastor's subject will be, "Just Around the Corner." About a hundred and twenty-five million people here in America are fanatically hunting for that elusive corner. If they find it, and make the hoped for discovery, just how much richer will they be?

Will the much discussed Teohachary point the way to that corner? If not, just what are the agencies that will lead this country to the success it so much desires?

I can't forget the Parish Supper on Wednesday next at 6:15. All members of the Parish are invited. Come prepared to spend the evening together as a BIG HAPPY FAMILY.

Just a gentle word of warning to the Ladies of the congregation. The Men of the congregation expect to eat a very fine supper prepared and served by the Ladies next Spring; unless the fair sex make a far better showing than they did last Sunday. "A word to the wise," etc.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK

Jan. 16—Just another of those warm cloudless days filled with sunshine, the ground still bare of snow.

Mrs. Maud Ryerson of Norway is doing housework at Paul Verrill's at Trap Corner.

John Blisbee spent the day recently with Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Dunham at Howe Hill.

Thomas Radcliff was a Sunday caller on his daughter, Mrs. Bernice Radcliff Davis.

The interior decorating of the new house of A. M. Andrews is being done this week. Fred Waterhouse and sons of West Paris did the painting and varnishing and Appleby & Silver of Parkville are doing the papering.

Mrs. Lura Thorn and little Billie were calling on old friends and neighbors Saturday, Jan. 14.

Gerald Benson is hauling wood for T. M. Andrews & Son.

Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 11, the Willing Workers of South Woodstock were entertained at Highland Farm, the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Abbott. Mr. and Mrs. Lee Abbott of North Paris. Several auto loads crowded to capacity left at 1:30 p. m. Others followed the trail, all arriving at the pleasant home of the Abbotts in time to enjoy the program and take active part in the work. And how everyone did enjoy the hearty greetings and the good natured sociability. The hostesses provided a bounteous repast to which all did justice. The shadows of nightfall were gathering when all said By-By, planning to meet again Jan. 25, at the home of another member, when a business meeting will be in order.

To Balance the Budget, Mate!

It is well recognized, even among the wisest, that nobody wants beer just for the beer, but rather for the revenue it will bring to help balance our budget year by year. Thus: "All right, boys, let's have just one more round for revenue, y'understand?" and then we'll all go home."—C. H. T., in Kansas City Star.

THE FINGER In and Around Bethel

Gordon E. Lathrop

Save Mayville!

Since Henry Boyker has issued an appeal for a hundred cars to use as a foundation for a town dump on the "Androscoquin" some of us with rattling old buses will keep them under lock and key lest they be used for filling. All the same, this town should have a public dump somewhere, and if our ashes will save the cemetery and Henry's fair grounds, I am sure putting them over there. It will get them out of our back yards, at least, without our having to sneak away after dark to deposit them on someone's woodlot. That shifting river shouldn't be allowed to undermine the lofty pines that have furnished so romantic a parking place for petting parties of this and a preceding generation or two. After all it is only a question, for some, of dumping their ashes along the bank rather than into the river from the bridge.

Produce YOUR License

Now that the ice has been broken in town in regard to asking drivers to produce their licenses, we all may rightfully expect to be held up in the near future. For, of course, there can be no discrimination by anyone in this matter. Every operator is as liable as any other operator. It may produce a lot of money from fines, as from time to time we have heard rumors (nothing definite) of persons who have been driving months and even years, without procuring proper credentials. Of course these may be a favored few who are not expected to contribute the two bucks to the State. But they shouldn't be so favored.

About Fire Protection

Another fire brings up the question again. Is Bethel properly equipped to combat a fire? It hardly seems so, although it is a question of whether apparatus would have been of use in this particular instance. But again it seems futile to have had plenty of witnesses to a fire able to do nothing to save the property. It is not necessary to have a $15,000 pumper for town this size, but something cheaper in this line might soon pay for itself.

In South Carolina or Bethel, his troubles are many; and not so different either:

Woe Is Man!

Man is of few days and full of trouble. He labors all the days of his youth to pay for a gasoline chariot, and when at last the task is finished, lo! the thing is junk and he needeth another. His ploweth cotton in the earth and filtheth it diligently, and his servants and his asses, and when the harvest is gathered into barns he oweth the landlord $8.40 more than the crop is worth. He borroweth money from the lenders to buy pork and nitrap and gasoline and the interest eateth up all that he hath. He begeth cars and educateth them to smoke cigarettes and wear a white collar, and they have soft hands and neither labor in the fields nor anywhere under the sun. The children of his loins are ornery and one of them becometh a lawyer and another sticketh up a filling station and maketh whoopee with the substance thereof. The wife of his bosom necketh with a stranger and when he rebukes her, to she shooteth him in the finale. He goeth forth in the morning on the road that leadeth to the city and a Jitney smiteth him so that his ribs project through his epidermis. He drinketh a drink of whoopee juice to forget his sorrows and it burneth the lining from his liver. All the days of his life he findeth no parking place and is tormented by traffic cops from his going forth until he cometh back. An enemy steal-eth his car; physicians remove his inner parts and his teeth and his bank roll; his daughters showeth their legs in the evening of life and his heart burneth trying to keep the pace. Sor- row and bill collectors followeth him all the days of his life, and when he is gathered to his fathers the neighbors sayeth: How much did he leave? Lo! he hath left it all. And his widow rejoiceth in a new coupe and maketh even at a young stick that sticketh in his hair and playeth a nifty game of bridge. Woe is man! From the day of his birth to the time when earth leaveth him no more, he laboreth for bread and catcheth the devil. That he was in the beginning and his name was Robert Quillen in the Foundation of the Tribune.

THE READER COMMENTS

January 15, 1933.

Oxford County Citizen:

I am sorry to delay comment on Mr. Clark's letter which appeared in your Jan. 5th issue, but circumstances prevented my reading said issue until the present time.

Now I have much more admiration for Mr. Clark than when talking from the background. The subject which has been discussed is a broad one and has been quite well covered.

No, Mr. Clark, I am not such an old timer since I am slightly past the quarter century mark. And now I find I have wasted all this space in telling you and Mr. L. that bears hibernation. He shouldn't have spoken as he did if he knew.

And now, Mr. Clark, when and where did you hear or see in print that I was an old experienced bear hunter? I do not claim to have much experience with these animals. In fact I related in the first letter my personal experience with them. But that once has taught me to not spend upwards of sixty years in quest of bear without a bounty and with pellets not wanted at any price.

But all this is wandering far from the question of economy. First I would say that I do not argue for the present reading of the bounty laws on bear. It should be uniform for all towns.

Now, after the State has paid out a considerable sum to exterminate both bear and porcupine, and have already cut their number by two-thirds, would it be economy to repeal the bounty which would automatically protect the bear by fine while they are increasing at an enormous rate? Soon we would have to put the bounty on again. Then the strain on the State would be many times as great as at present.

Mr. Lathrop must have a very keen scent for dead porcupines, for I have asked many real hunters how many they saw during the last year with nose and feet intact, and yet unable to chisel the bark and boughs off of about three or four trees a week, (which in short means dead). The largest number witnessed by any one man was two. I personally have been in the woods six out of every seven days since November 26th, and I have not seen one as described, and I travel an average of six miles a day. I can show you or anyone else who cares to look, many spots where on a acre of ground there are eight or ten cords of maple, fir and spruce that has been killed by hedgehogs. Would you watch in peace and without effort to prevent the burning of our forests? Then why uphold the destruction of them by any other method? For remember that over seventy-five per cent of the timber in the U. S. lies west of the Rockies.

And as for Mr. L.'s hitting at the absurdity of some of our laws, I might ask if he considers it absurd to have a law requiring the operator of a motor vehicle to buy and carry on his person while operating, a license to operate a vehicle. Also I understand he has been seen within the ten-foot allowance of a hydrant with motor at a standstill.

Now, in closing I wish to say that I am not writing these letters to be contrary. Only on this subject I, as well as many others, consider his narrow theory on this subject very wrong. In fact many of his articles have much truth and good advice in them if followed. But on the bounty subject I cannot agree.

Wishing you many happy days in the future, and with the utmost respect for your age, Mr. Clark, although way L. expressed the opinion of both of you, I did in the past think you to be exceedingly young.

I trust you will forgive as you are forgiven.

WILLIAM H. DAY

My Dear Boy:

Let me remind you that the basis of this "narrow theory," as you call it, was an extract of some of the economy legislation to be acted upon by the Legislature of the State of Maine. It was not evolved in the brain of Mr. L., even though he may agree that it is an economy. But I am afraid our bear stories are boring the general reader. So if you are willing we might continue them over a glass of hard cider, at your invitation, or if you'd rather, you are welcome to hold a kitchen session with Mr. Clark and myself (over a glass of water) any evening except Saturday, or on any Sunday morning. As for the personalities of driving without a license and parking in front of a hydrant, may I refer you to page one and the verdict of one more capable to judge than you seem to be, and to the officer who informed me that it is not against the law to park in front of a hydrant, although I don't make a practice of it. I think that I have the same rights as any other operator, don't you?

Gordon E. Lathrop.

SHALL LIQUOR COME BACK?

easily influenced. The movement to nullify the law by removing state laws in support of the Constitution is only one of the many ways in which the forces opposed to the Eighteenth Amendment have tried to bring about less enforcement of the law.

At the same time they have been pointing out to the people that the more lawless conditions were due to prohibition, when those very conditions were brought about by the repeal of state laws, advocated by the forces seeking the overthrow of prohibition.

Shall liquor come back? If the Eighteenth Amendment is repealed it means that liquor can be manufactured, transported and sold in any state where there is no law forbidding the same. Bootlegging from wet states into dry states or from other countries into dry states would still continue. The only way that bootlegging could be stopped would be to lift all restrictions against liquor in every state.

Advocates of repeal say that the saloon must not come back. Why? Because the saloon was recognized as an evil. What made it an evil? Liquor. What abolished the saloons? The Eighteenth Amendment, because it forbade the manufacture and sale of the liquor which made the saloon an evil.

Then why repeal the Eighteenth Amendment and restore both liquor and the saloon for beer gardens and legalized speakeasies will only be saloons under a new name.

Liquor whether in the old saloon or in beer gardens brings poverty and ruin to many. The tax on liquor lightens the income taxes of the wealthy but the tax is paid by the unfortunate people who use the product. The hard earned dollar of the working man will go to the liquor dealers in stead of into useful industry for the benefit of his family.

Liquor is making the most of the depression to stage a come-back. Shall we vote to retain and uphold the Eighteenth Amendment which outlaws liquor or shall we vote to surrender to those forces which have worked unceasingly to break down respect for our Constitution and laws and again legalize a traffic which always has been and always will be a menace to the American people.

It is reported that a cargo of 50 carloads of Aroostook potatoes will be shipped out of Portland Saturday for Texas.
